Saudi Accreditation for Legal Practitioners (SASL)

Course Introduction

The Saudi Accreditation for Legal Practitioners (SASL) is run by the Saudi Bar Association through its academy. It sets a unified professional framework defining the minimum knowledge and skills for legal practice and consultancy, with specialist tracks such as tax and zakat, real estate, insurance and capital markets.

The programme prepares the Authority's legal staff for the accreditation path by building core practice competencies: the regulatory and judicial environment, legal drafting, litigation and dispute resolution, and professional ethics, with an introduction to the specialist tracks. Accreditation is granted by the Saudi Bar Association's academy; this programme does not grant it.
