Strategic Planning Skills in Government Relations

Course Introduction

The HR Leadership in Times of Crisis course equips HR professionals, managers, and organizational leaders with the skills to navigate challenging situations effectively while maintaining workforce engagement and business continuity. Crises, whether economic, health-related, or organizational, demand strong HR leadership to manage uncertainty and protect both employees and organizational performance.

Participants will explore strategies for crisis communication, workforce management, employee well-being, decision-making under pressure, and maintaining organizational resilience. The course emphasizes actionable skills to guide teams, implement strategic HR solutions, and sustain morale during turbulent periods.

By completing this course, learners will be prepared to demonstrate HR leadership in times of crisis, effectively manage workforce challenges, and strengthen organizational stability. It is ideal for HR managers, business leaders, team heads, and professionals responsible for employee engagement and organizational continuity
