Employee Relations: Motivations and Disciplines

Course Introduction

In today's fast-paced and diverse work environments, effective employee relations are essential for organizational stability, productivity, and growth. Managing employee motivation, addressing concerns and grievances, and applying disciplinary actions fairly are critical components of a healthy and compliant workplace culture.

This comprehensive training program equips participants with the knowledge and tools required to foster a positive employee relations climate. It combines theoretical frameworks with practical application, offering real-world insights into motivating teams, resolving conflicts, and enforcing workplace discipline aligned with labour laws and organizational values.

Participants will engage in interactive case studies, role-plays, and group exercises to apply what they learn in a practical, results-oriented way.
