Facilities, Assets & Accommodation Management

Course Introduction

Effective management of facilities, organizational assets, and accommodation services is essential for maintaining safe, efficient, and productive work environments while maximizing the value of organizational resources. As organizations expand and workplace requirements become more complex, facilities professionals are expected to manage assets throughout their lifecycle, coordinate accommodation services, optimize space utilization, oversee maintenance activities, and ensure compliance with operational, safety, and sustainability standards. Excellence in these areas contributes directly to business continuity, employee satisfaction, operational efficiency, and long-term organizational performance.

Designed by Boost Consulting & Training, this comprehensive program equips participants with the knowledge, practical methodologies, and international best practices required to effectively manage facilities, assets, and accommodation services. Participants will learn how to plan and coordinate facility operations, optimize asset utilization, manage accommodation services, improve maintenance planning, strengthen vendor management, and implement performance measurement practices that support operational excellence and organizational sustainability.
