Sustainable Business Strategy

Course Introduction

This Sustainable Business Strategy training course aims to foster an understanding of sustainable business practices by examining evolving relationships between businesses, communities, and the global environment. This course delves into the significance of business sustainability from a managerial standpoint, delving into the emergence and rationale behind employee engagement while prompting reflection on the reciprocal relationship between sustainability challenges and business operations.

Participants will explore the balancing act between management's duty to shareholders for financial returns and meeting broader stakeholder expectations, emphasizing the potential benefits to individuals, organizations, and economies alike. Furthermore, the course will prompt reflection on integrating sustainability policies with business strategies and operations, exploring their connection to competitiveness and brand integrity.
